

Euronet's e-pay launches prepaid services for 3

LEAWOOD, KANSAS and LONDON—June 10, 2004—Euronet Worldwide's (Nasdaq: EEFT) subsidiary, e-pay, today announced the activation of its electronic voucher (E Voucher) service for 3, the U.K.'s first video mobile network, which is owned by Hong Kong conglomerate Hutchison Whampoa Limited.

Customers of 3 can now top-up on ThreePay in thousands of outlets across the U.K., such as the Post Office, Esso service stations, as well as BP and TM Retail, which includes Martins, McColls, Forbuoys.

"By launching ThreePay we are challenging the status quo in the U.K. market," said Graeme Oxby, 3 marketing director. "We're the first network operator to offer pay-as-you-go customers the same great value as contract customers. With these distribution agreements our ThreePay vouchers are available right across the U.K."

E Vouchers replace scratch-off cards, which are more costly to handle and may have a high instance of theft. The top-up service is supported through a 24/7 support system featuring state-of-the-art switching engine that offers billing, customer service, trouble reporting, credit management, settlement and reconciliation. e-pay's electronic top-up services are also available in Australia, New Zealand, Ireland, Poland and Malaysia.

"e-pay is continually offering a full complement of U.K. networks to its customers and with the implementation of ThreePay at e-pay's retailer locations, the prepaid momentum continues to build" said Paul Althasen, Euronet executive vice president and co-managing director e-pay. "Our presence in the U.K. marketplace strengthens as we expand our relationships with the network providers, offering extensive prepaid payment solutions to consumers."
